Applicants to the Georgia Clinical & Translational Science Alliance (Georgia CTSA) TL1 program must be from one of the four Georgia CTSA institutions: Emory, Georgia Tech, Morehouse School of Medicine, or University of Georgia. Per NIH requirements, TL1 applicants must be U.S. Citizens or Permanent Residents.

The Georgia CTSA, the NIH-supported Clinical and Translational Science Award TL1 program (www.georgiactsa.org), is focused on providing innovative didactic and mentored research training to individuals interested in careers that encompass clinical and/or translational research. The TL1 program provides an opportunity to complete the Master of Science in Clinical Research or the Certificate Program in Translational Research. The TL1 program supports postdoctoral trainees (resident and fellow physicians, PhD postdocs, and PharmD residents).

Applicants admitted into the TL1 program receive the following:

- Stipend: One year of predoctoral or postdoctoral stipend support and health insurance based on the NIH NRSA scale.
- Tuition: Tuition support for the Emory or Morehouse School of Medicine MSCR program (MSCR and coursework begin August 2020).
- Travel: A total of $1,000 is provided to each TL1 awardee for travel to the Translational Science Scientific Meeting in Washington, D.C in April 2020 to present their research findings

Postdoctoral TL1 program eligibility:

- Physicians in Training (residents and fellows): Postdoctoral physicians, including senior residents and those in fellowship training programs at the Emory University School of Medicine, may apply to the TL1 program at any point in their postdoctoral (residency or fellowship) training.
- Postdoctoral fellows with PhD, PharmD, or equivalent degrees: PhD postdoctoral fellows and PharmD residents may apply at any point in their postdoctoral training.

For more information on how to apply to the TL1 program and the application requirements, please see the program's website, <http://georgiactsa.org//training/tl1/index.html>.
